BRAD HAHN

Hey Brad! D'ya say? What can we say? I can't believe we made it through this year. Only one more & actually made it to the end. Of course: yeah, something's gonna happen anyway. It's this year. That's what I'm looking forward to. Of the two years to go. I look forward to school next year & only go to school summer. See ya - Have a good summer. Good luck! Adelaide

Brady,
I'm really glad I met you. You are a super funny guy to be around. I hope you give music a call this summer so We can all go out together. Jammy Edge *95-8550

Brad, what do I say to you, we've been through all. You are a hell of a guy and a super friend. I wish you all the best in the world in your next year. Keep in touch

Bradley,
Well you better hold on to that girl next yr, as well as the exec. office. I'm really glad I got to know you this year, you & Jake (Jonny Jason) type you and she get married cos I don't think she can stand those Black Velvet signs on every street corner. (staring her in the eyes)
Have a fun summer
and next yr. get the seniors rowdy
See ya
Nancy

Brad,
Its a crazy guy who parties great. Have one hell of a summer and maybe Sat. I can sit around the table and party. Be good and have fun,
Love Paula

Dear Brad,
This year was really fun (Kathe
I hope you have a really wild
Summer. Hope to see ya alot
Love always,
Virgo

Brad H,
Wasn't 3rd hour just lucious,
I've never seen a pair of legs like that. I know you almost shot a wad a couple times looking at them. well anyway have a fun summer. Remember one thing the word of the day is leggs, please help spread the word.
John Levy

Brad
I can recall a quate you made once upon a time "hell I don't know if I even want to run, but if I do it'll be for President or nothing" What happened—even so congatulation on your win if I haven't congratulate you before. You have alot ahead of you next year, I'm sure you'll be in the great life so have fun. Are you going to Hawaii? If so see you there
Your friend Angel Kelly

Brad-
I had lots of fun this year getting to know you. Thanks for all the help on my champain. lets do some stuff this summer. Hope things work out with Sue and you. Thanks for being a friend and a counciler -
Chris

Brad,
God bless you & I pray you have a good senior year and a successful life in the future. I hope you take it easy & be a good boy.
Tim

Brad,
Well, there's not much to say except that I still hate you for all your remarks about my flab & about my pale, pale face. (Yours isn't that hot, either) Just joking. Keep on partying & good luck with Sue.
Love & Coors forever,
Lynn Hayes

P.S. I still say I can drink you under the table!

Hey Brad, how's it going? I hope to see you this summer at a party or something. By the way, thanks for the something & don't mean a lot, because I realize you're still a kid, & can't get into any- where. It's O/K Brad, it's beer, nice having you in any. Just somewhere maybe!! next year. See ya.
Love,
Darcy

IT'S BEEN A SUPER YEAR AND WE'VE HAD A LOT OF FUN. YOU PROBABLY HAVE THE BEST SENSE OF HUMOR OF ANYONE I KNOW - YOU JUST SEE THE LITTLE THINGS ALL THE REST OF US IGNORE. I'M SURE YOU AND KAPLAN WILL GO FAR IN LIFE. LET ME KNOW WHEN YOU'RE READY TO KNOCK OFF LONDE. I'LL HELP.

- BILL

Honey,

I don't want this to sound as if I'm looking back on something that's over - the only thing that is over is this year. And what a year! Just think of all the many [illegible] things, new places, new experiences we have shared this year. Everytime I think of any of them I can't help but think of you because you were such a special part! Neat to think of the many happy times [illegible] mom of PVGC makes me remember it and all the things we learned together about life and love - both of us and it [illegible] especially love. Love was so new to both of us and it brought so many things & brought tears, so many tears, so many tears [illegible] and affection (so much affection!) and most of all [illegible] more love. I know you love me but know? You do so much. I [illegible] forever to remind me when I forget - but Brad, let's look forward to [illegible] for you could help [illegible] to look [illegible] face my fears and my [illegible] get. It's so fantastic [illegible] Because I -

See you at the airport!

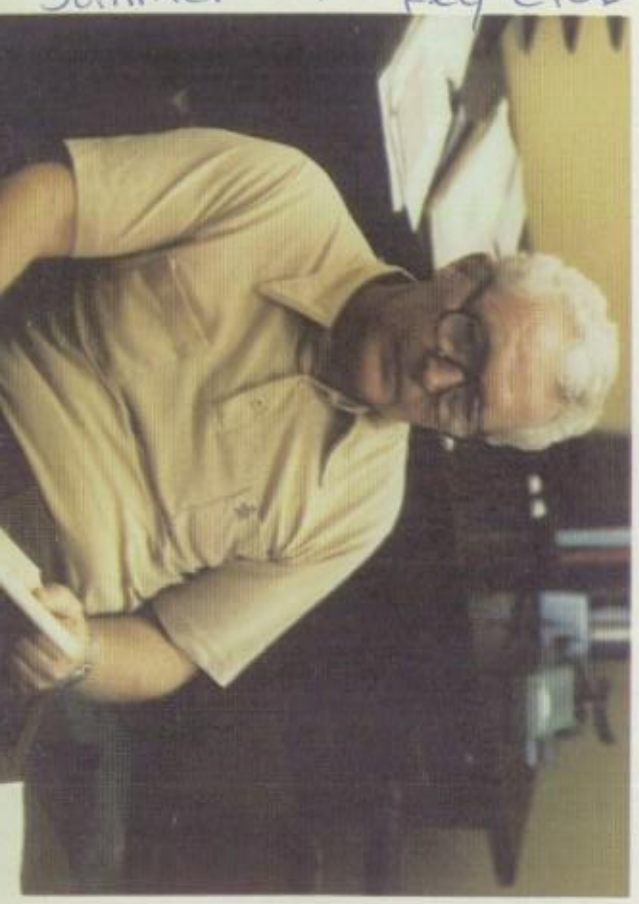
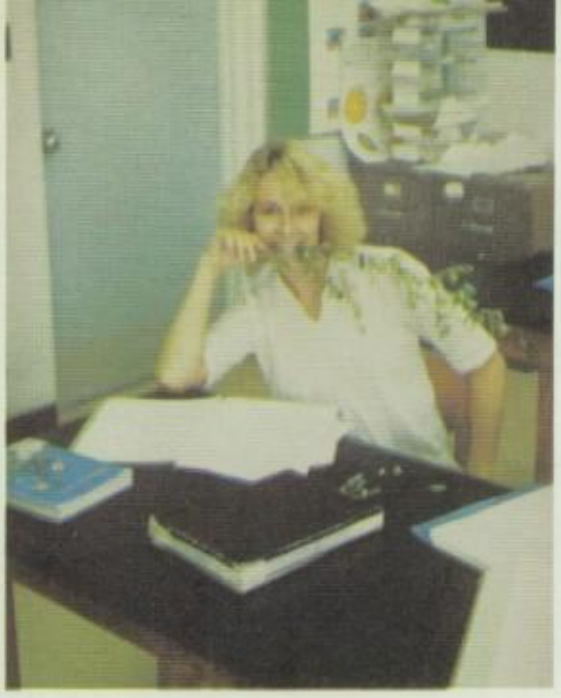
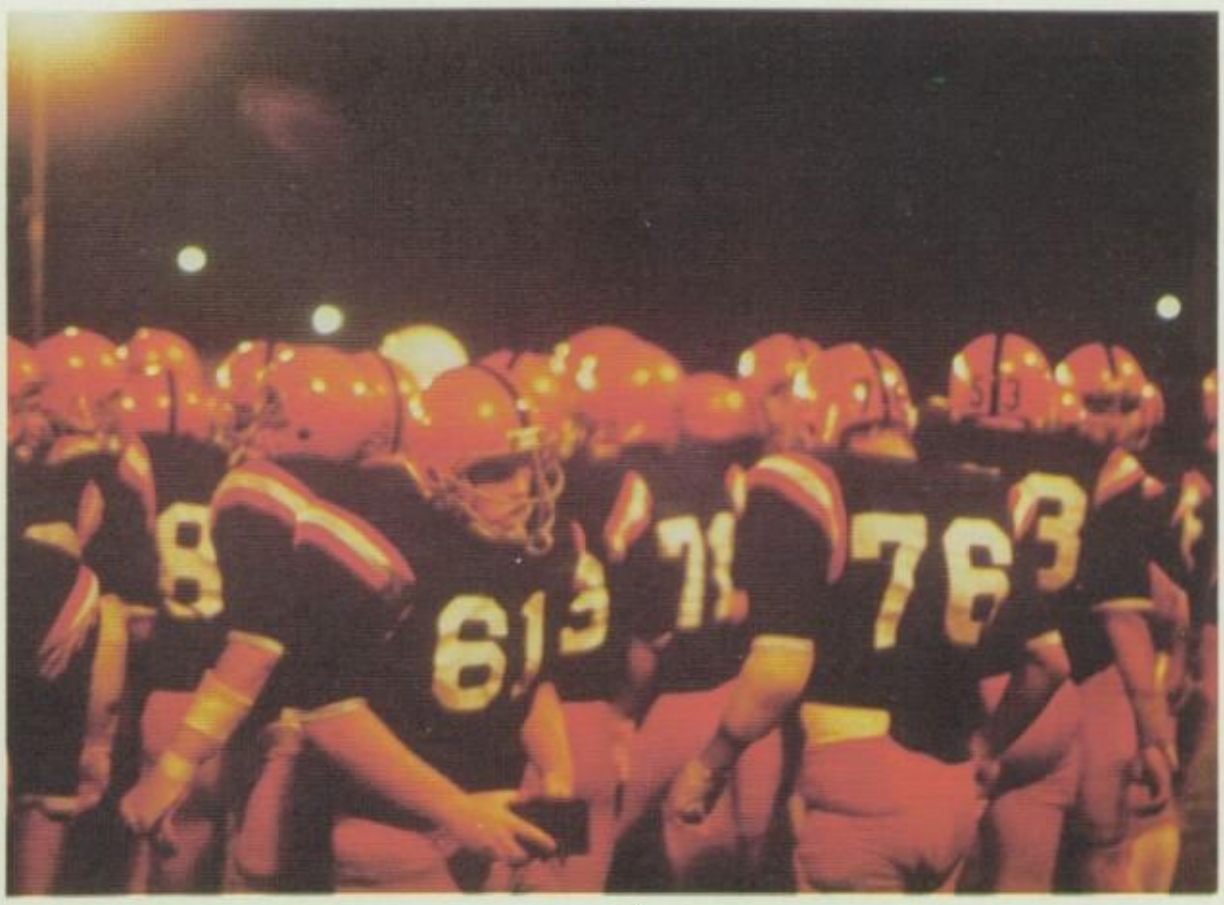
Bradley, Stephen,?
How can I sum the years feelings up for you in just five minutes? Just kidding!, I'm sorry - typical huh. Well, Brad I've known you for only two years - remember how I hated you when I met you for the 1st time - can you blame me! After you threw coke all over my car, & you were driving with Carol - were you not. Well since your in an awful hurry I won't go into too much detail. I hope you do well next year in both your offices. You do remember that you are in a couple of responsible positions. Please look up in Webster dictionary the meaning of responsible... I'll come back & visit you next year so you better remember me. See you over the Sommer → Key Club Convention San Diego → if I go. Love, Maureen





What does he stand for?
He stands for pride, integrity and is symbolic of school strength.



So as we dedicate this first year to the Spartan, we are dedicating the year to you, the Camelback student of the 80s'. You are the future.

HONORS

1980

THE YEAR OF THE SPARTAN

HONORS DIVISION 17

Liz Smith, David Hook receive honor.

The Shield Royalty goes to a senior boy and girl who have contributed a great deal to the school, but who have not brought formal recognition to themselves. This year the Shield Staff elected David Hook and Liz Smith as the 1979-80 Shield King and Queen.

Liz Smith grew up in Illinois and moved to Phoenix at the end of her sophomore year. Liz was very active at her former high school, St. Charles, and immediately became involved here at Camelback. During her junior year at Camelback she was active in the band, Concert Choir and was a member of the softball team. She also belonged to the Christian Club, TARS and Junior Class Council. Her senior activites included band, Senior Class Council and being a student senator. Aside from all this, Liz managed to hold a part time job at Bashas and was a volunteer at the Deaf Center.

David Hook was born and raised in Phoenix. He attended Squaw Peak and Christ Lutheran grade schools. One of David's most outstanding accomplishments was receiving the male lead in the fall drama production "Stage Door." David was a member of National Honor Society, Spanish National Honor Society, and ranked in the upper 5% of his graduating class. But even with maintaining such an outstanding academic record, David was also active in many organizations including the following: Ecneics, Bridge and Christian Clubs, Concert Choir, student senate and was also on the swim team. David also held a part time job working for his father and was heavily involved in his church youth group.

Group held Fall, Spring inductions.

Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for journalists. To be eligible for membership a student must be on publication for at least one year, receive a recommendation from one of the two sponsors, Ms. Morehart or Mrs. Poarch, and rank in the upper quarter of their class. Quill and Scroll members held both Fall and Spring induction ceremonies.

Honor Societies active during year

French and Spanish National Honor Societies are two national honorary societies with active chapters at Camelback High. To qualify for entrance into these organizations, students have to hold a grade standing of a one for the minimum of three semesters. However, once a student has acquired this standing he or she will remain in the organization. At the beginning of each year there is an induction for all of the new members.

Council did more than activities.

The Student Executive Board consisted of officers elected by the student body. Besides the usual lunch time activities this year's administration concerned itself with organizing records and reference materials for future regimes.

The Executive Council, a larger group, also ran activities. The council consisted of the Executive Board, committee chairpersons and the four class presidents.

Student Executive Board . . . Student Body Officers: Mr. Fred Johnson, Advisor; Mike McCoy, President; Mark Smith, Vice President; Holly Harris, Executive Secretary; Charlene Soto, Corresponding Secretary; Conde Abbott, Financial Secretary.

Senate has New issues Legislation

Senators are representatives, which were elected from their homeroom class to express the students views on current issues going on in school. This past year many issues had been brought up such as, lengthened lunch hours and mid-session Student Exec. trip to Hawaii. Most students who participate in Student Senate really enjoyed it.

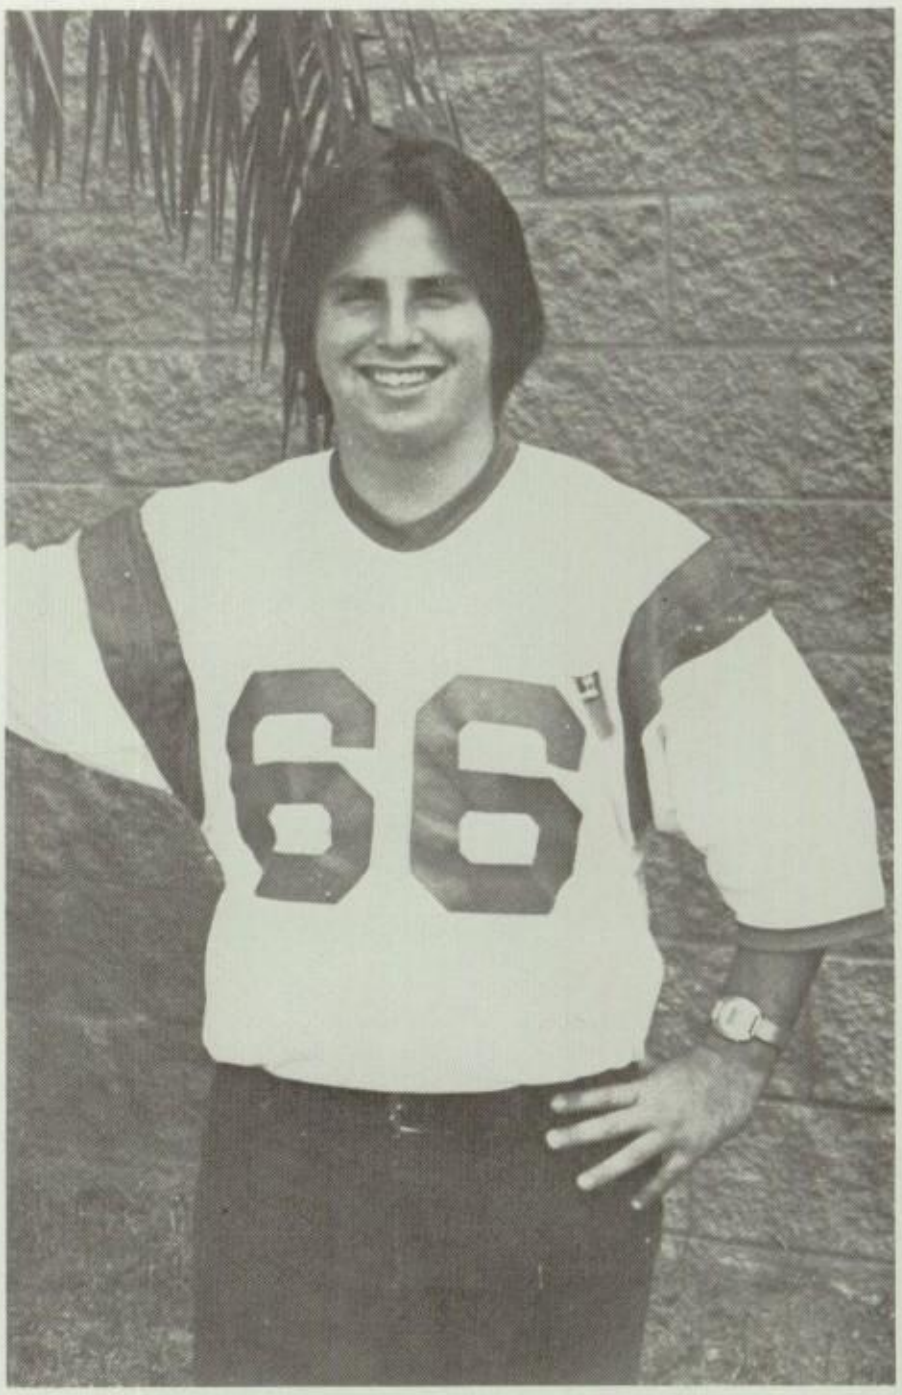
Student board, C.A.C. represent student body.

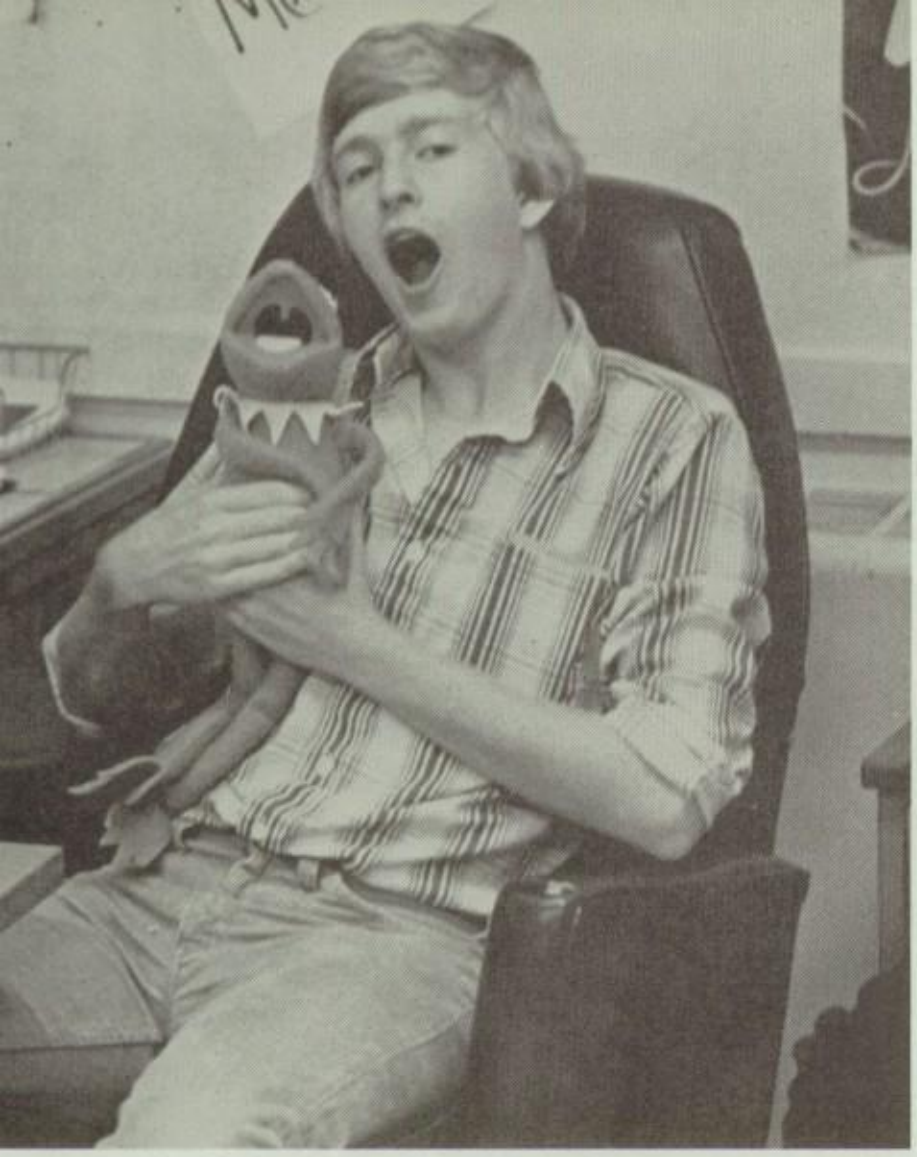
We represent the views of the student body to the Board of Education, "claimed Linda Tveidt. Linda served as the junior representative to the Board of Education. Bill Adair, senior representative, commented further, "it is important because too often adults tend to make policies concerning students without consulting the students." Both Linda and Bill had to attend regular meetings throughout the school year.

C.A.C. stands for the Citizens Advisory Council and Danny "Wally" Guido served as the student representative from Camelback. The duties of his position required that he attend local as well as district meetings each month. Both of the Student Board Representatives and the Citizens Advisory Council representatives were elected into office by the student body. One adult member also represented Camelback at the district C.A.C. meetings, & this year's representative and local chapter president was Richard Flores.



Danny Guido serves as C.A.C. Representative.

Bill Adair and Linda Tveidt, student board representatives collaborate on district wide meeting material.



Mike McCoy and Kermit work up a singing routine about N.M.S.Q.T.

Four qualify as NMSQT winners

In an interview with Mark Marley he explained the following qualifications needed for him and others to acquire the National Merit Scholarship Semi-finalist acknowledgement. First of all the students must rank in the top five percent of the nation on the Preliminary Scholastic Appititude Test. After achieving this they must then take the Scholastic Apptitude Test during their senior year. Approximately 16,000 students qualify as semi-finalists throughout the nation, and out of these students 1000 are awarded scholarships.

N.M.S.Q.T. Semi-finalists . . . Gordon Pomernke, Joe Burfoot, Mark Marley, Mike McCoy.

Editors attend 1979 workshop

Four editors on the Shield staff attended a publication workshop in Colorado this past summer. The workshop proved to be a success, for when they returned, each was able to present fresh ideas in the areas of theme development, layout and graphics. When these principles were applied to the 1980 Shield the results were the following: a strong sense of theme (ie. the Spartan), an artistic form of layout used in the opening section and a new touch of colored graphics. The funding for the workshop was made available through the Student Senate.

Blade Provides Student Medium

Tom Cox, editor-in-chief, felt that the Blade provided a medium through which students could express ideas which otherwise would go unheard.

PUHSS District Budget financed four and a half issues; the Blade raised money locally to pay for all other issues.

Tom Cox also hoped that the Blade did increase communication between students and faculty.

Students gain legislature experience

Four girls and four boys were choosen from those that were originally nominated to represent Camelback at Girl's State and Boy's State this year. They went to the University of Arizona, where they met up with delegates from all around the state. They set up a mock legislature to learn all about how our government works. Conde Abbott explained in an interview, "It was the best possible way of learning I have ever experienced."

Anytown delegates discussed issues.

Anytown is a camp sponsored by the Conference of Christians and Jews. It has a unique environment where delegates cover a broad spectrum of topics in which they learn about themselves as well as how to cope with others.

The delegates were chosen through a process which entailed the filling out of applications and then being interviewed by former delegates.

Ken Reynolds, one of the delegates that attended, explained, "It was the type of experience that really makes a person feel good."

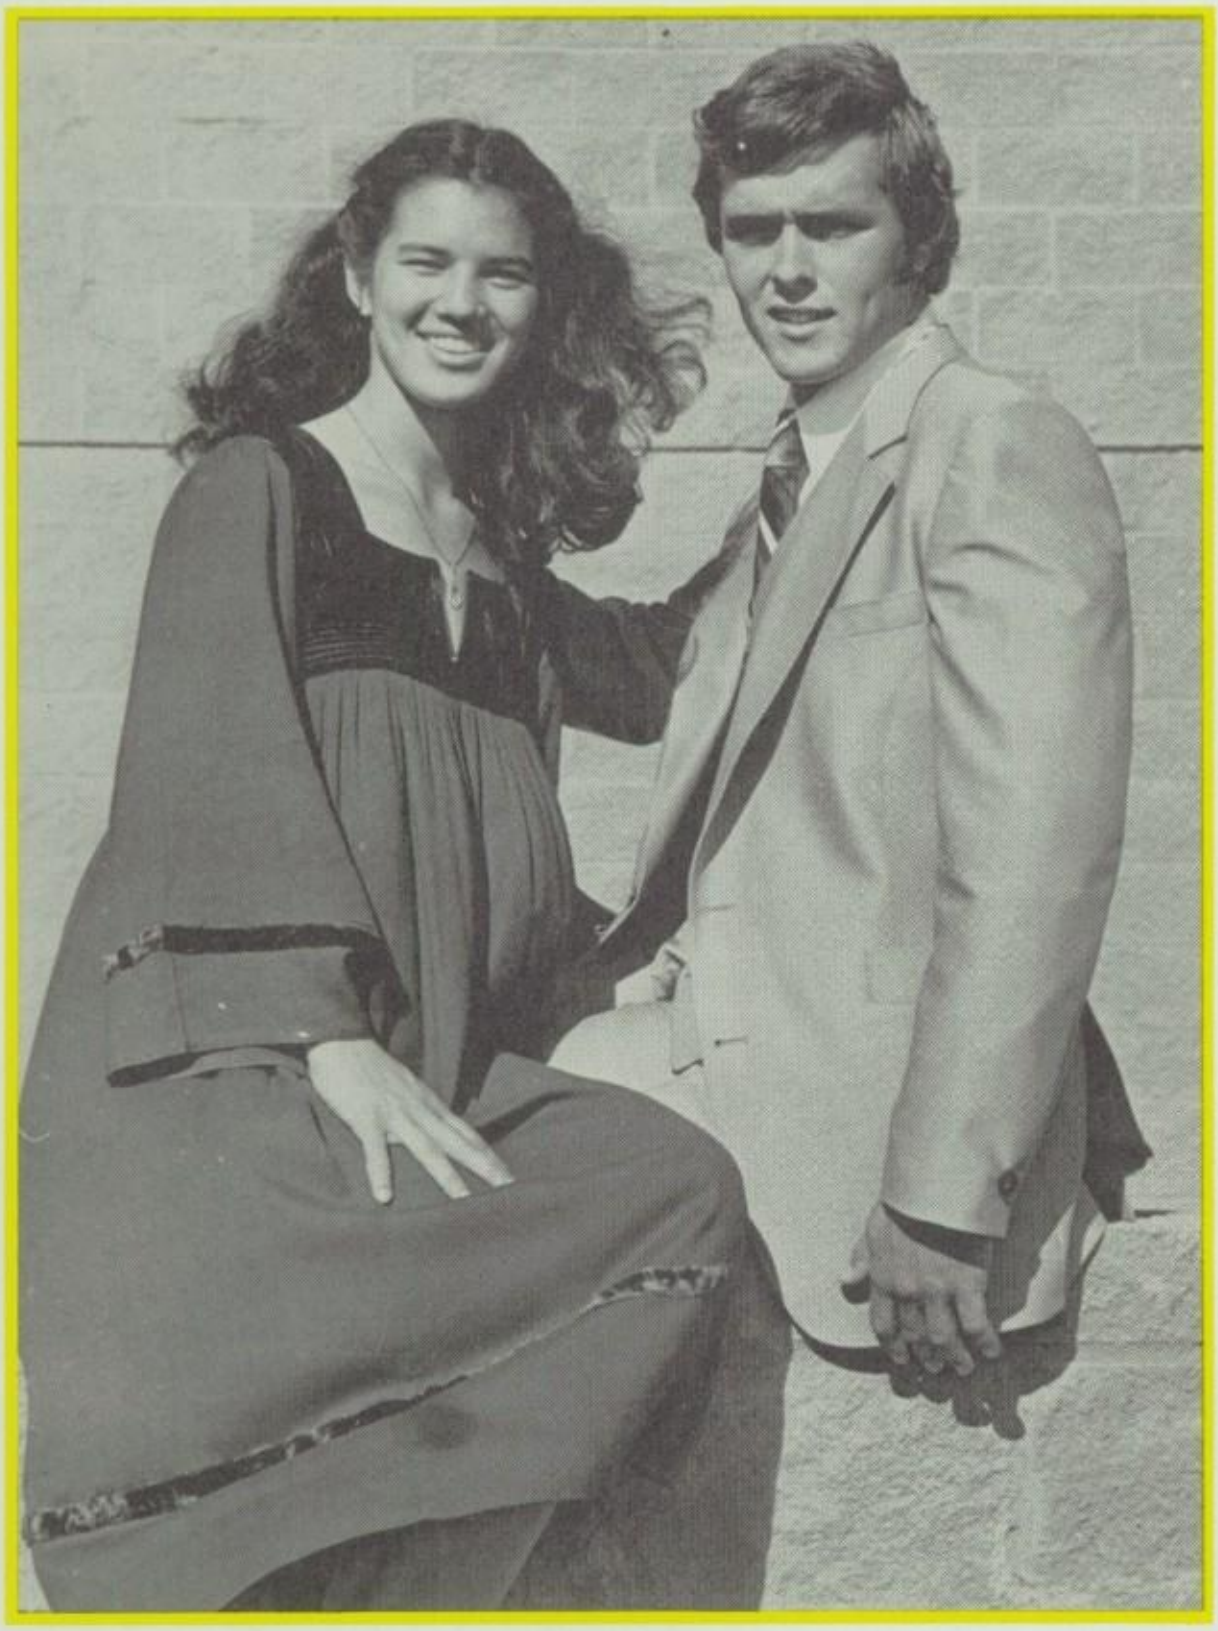
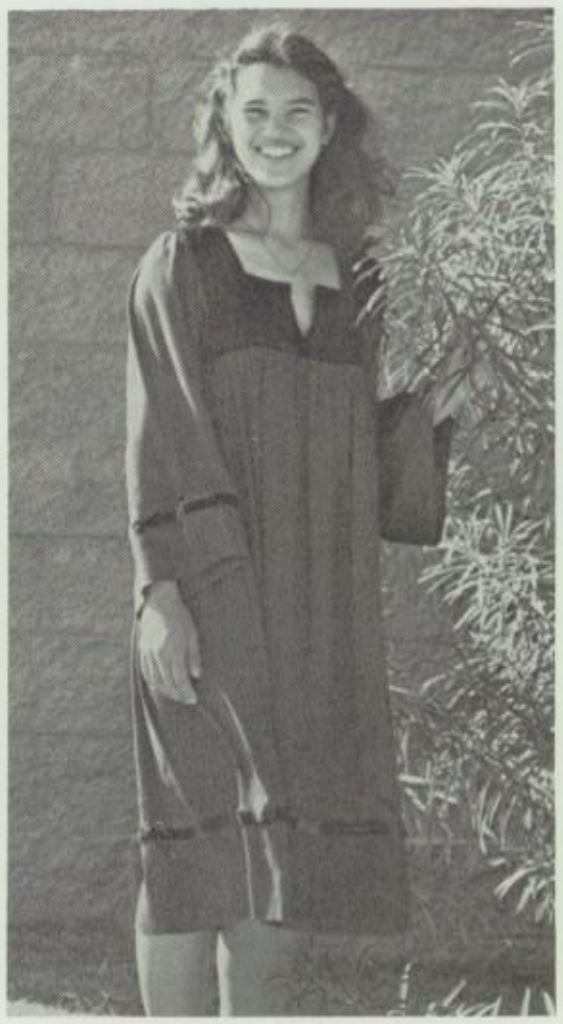
Royalty Was Active at Camelback



The student body elected Sharon Wong and Bennett Sarager as the 1979 Homecoming Royalty.

Sharon grew up in Denver, Colorado and moved to Phoenix during her sophomore year. During her years at Camelback she served as Junior Class President and was a member of the Flag Line.

Bennett, a native of Phoenix, attended Madison No.2 grade school. He occupied his time at Camelback with athletics. Bennett played basketball and participated on the track team during his underclass years, however, he was best known for his contributions to the Varsity Football Team.



John Marsh is congratulated by Mr. Barlow during induction.

Honorary Society inducted scholars

National Honor Society is an honorary club which gave recognition to those students who have acquired superior class standings. To qualify for the nomination to get into the club, the students must have ranked in the top ten percent of their class as a junior or the top fifteen percent as a senior. Those nominated were evaluated in many areas ranging from class leadership to personal character.

The group gets together during the year for social events such as: hay rides, backpacking trips, picnics, etc. At the beginning of the year, they held an induction for the new members for the school cafeteria.

September events include Pep Rallys

Ah yes, a person could tell when September rolled around at CBHS. Once again you could hear the lockers slam and the students sighs, reminiscing of the past summer. A great number of people went on nice, long vacations last summer; but the all time favorite at Camelback was going out and having a good time with friends.

When the students returned, they found that the lunch hours had been shortened to only thirty-eight minutes, but the September Activities helped make up for that loss.

A lot of people worked hard in order to assure that this Homecoming was the best ever!" stated, Homecoming Chairmen, Linda Tveidt, when interviewed about Homecoming 79'. The theme for Homecoming was "How the Muppets Won the West," which was shown when the Spartan football team won over the West High Thunderbirds 21-6. Homecoming week dominated the October activities, and a different activity was held during lunch hours. One of the favorites seemed to be when Principal David Goodson was the victim in the dunking machine. Also in the dunking machine was Mr. Seaman. The highlight of the week came on Friday night when Sharon Wong and Bennett Sarager were crowned 1979-80 Homecoming Royalty.

Students Listen to Navy Concert

During the month of November Camelback was given a concert by the Navy Band. Also on campus were representatives from colleges state wide explaining their programs to interested students.

However, the most important event in November was registration, which was not the traditional walk through registration. Students could no longer pick their teachers and many were disatisfied with the entire procedure. Mr. Allegretti commented "I thought the process they used for registration was time consuming and I prefered the walk through."

Juantia Lipton, explains to Ray Grove, and Gary Somo the new registration being used for second semester.

Annual Food Drive was held

December was a busy month. On the fifth, sixth, and seventh of the month, Masque and Gavel presented their fall production, "Stage Door." On December fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth, the Camelback Ski Club held the first ski trip of the season to Purgatory, Colorado. Just before the winter recess, Student Government sponsored the Annual Canned Food Drive. Classes competed with each other to see who could collect the most cans and picked fruit for the St. Mary's Food Bank. Mr. Barlow's third hour class raised the most amount of food in the drive so they received a party.

Warm weather brings finals

January 1, 1980 — beginning of a new decade at Camelback. January proved to be a strange month with weather feeling much like May. At that time of the year not many activities were planned, but students had fun any way. The sport highlights this month were wrestling, basketball, and softball. Finals this month weren't the favorite topic of many, but that signaled that summer wasn't far away. A total of 35 seniors graduated at mid-term this month. All in all, after January came to an end students were ready for spring break to arrive.

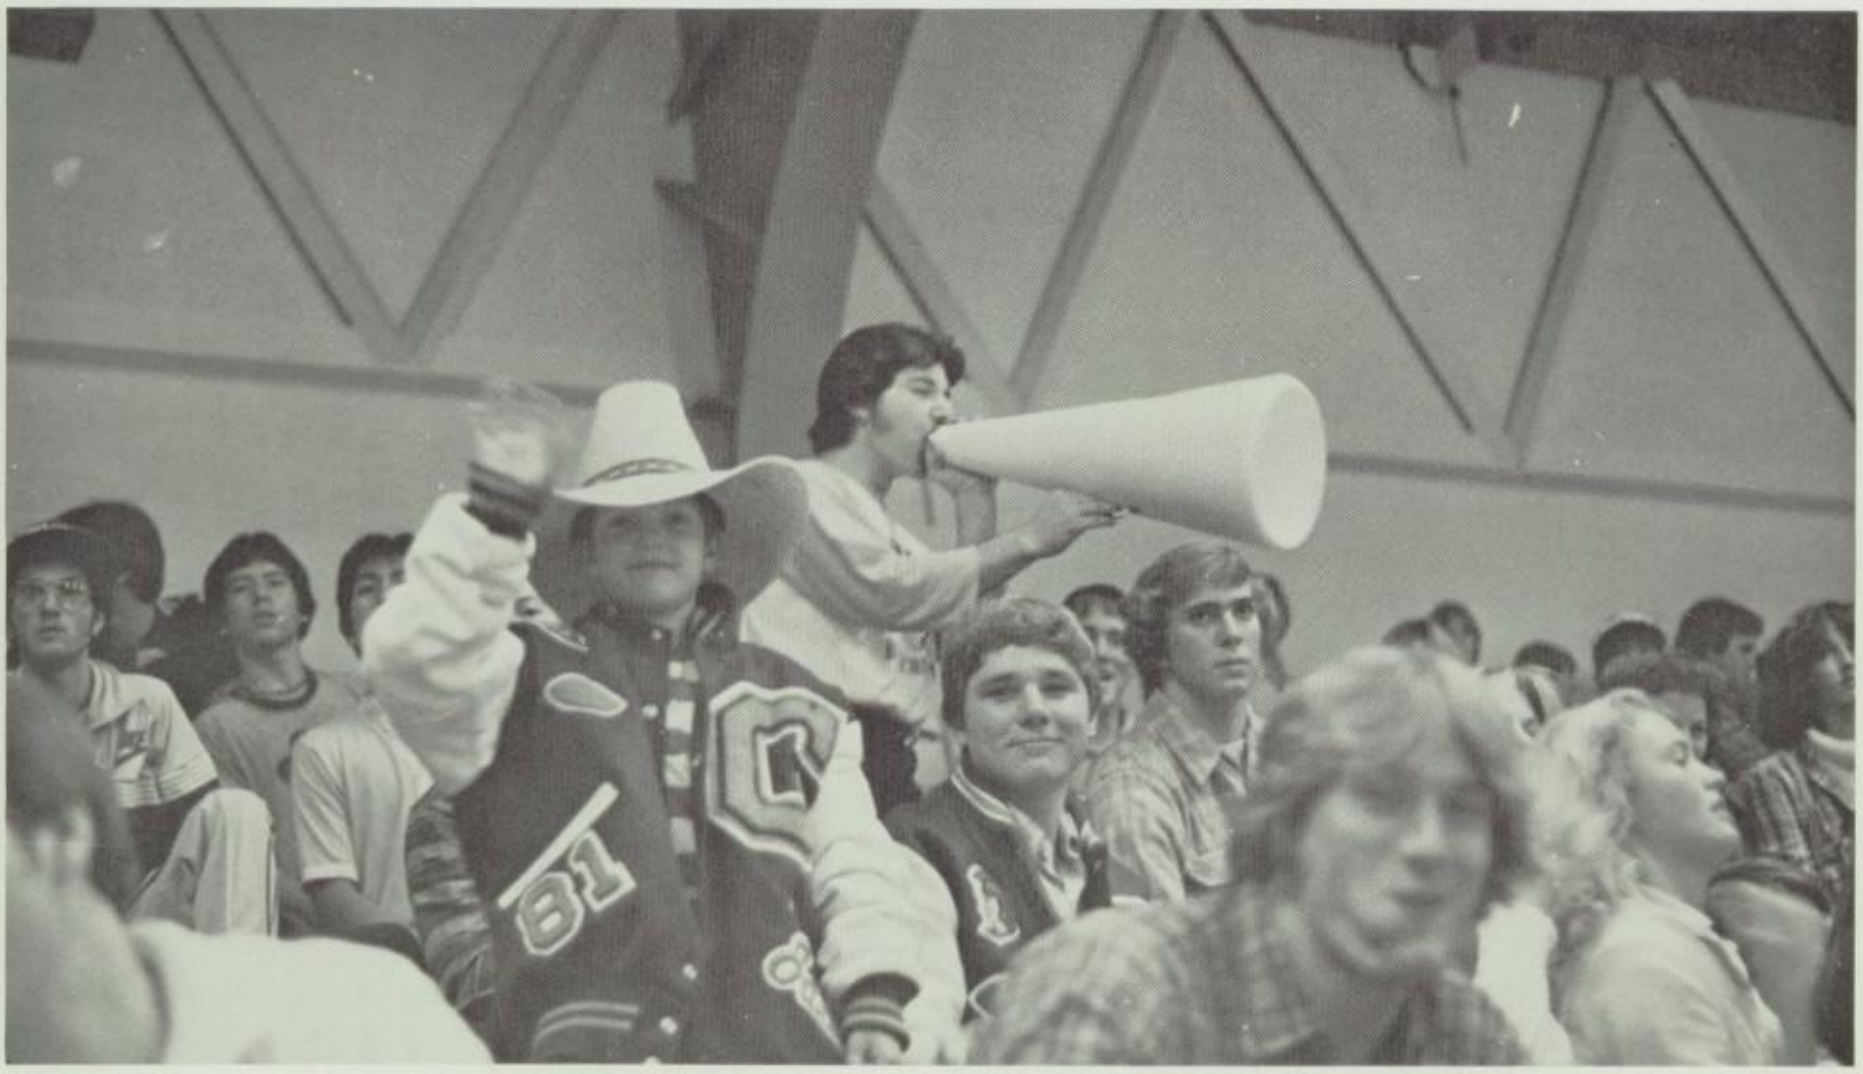
Overide Election held in District.

February was a month filled with various activities and events. Several Valentines Day activities were held including "The Dating Game," valograms and carnations, and balloon sales, and a three legged race.

Concert Choir had a performance and a mini dance concert was also held. Most of the Winter sports teams had their divisional playoffs during this month. However, perhaps the biggest event which took place was the District Overide election, that determined the fate of three Phoenix Union District Schools. The Overide was approved, allowing the three schools to remain open, and the citizens taxes in the area to be raised.



Miniature Spartan Jimmy Seaton, number 81, cheers for brother Mike Seaton, while Will Gonzales yells in the background.

Youth Art Month was A YAM JAM

March marked the fifth annual celebration of Arizona's Youth Art Month. Y.A.M. was sponsored by the National Art Education Association to observe the educational benefits of teaching art, creative expression, and perceptual growth. Camelback participated by having YAM games, songs, and representation from the drama, dance, music, and art departments. Celebrated on March 20, Camelback's YAM JAM was extremely successful.

Fall Registration for the 1980 school year also took place in March. It was the first computer registration students at Camelback High had ever experienced. This denied the students the priviledge to choose their teachers and preferred class hours.

The Month of March was happily interupted with a spring break lasting the week of the 10-15!!

Retarded students aided by TARS.

T A.R.S. (Teens Aiding Retarded Students), is a service organization geared towards working with retarded students. The students learn to work with children who have mental handicaps. The members volunteer at ATP (Arizona Training Program). They are assigned to a specific person at the center, which both benefit from because of closeness developed between the two. Fundraisers and benefits are also held by TARS. And the money was donated to ATP. At the end of the year, the members held a party.

Electronics Club visits stations.

The Electronics Club re-activated itself this year. The members met once a week and planned such activities as visiting a broadcast station. An electronics part auction was held in early spring. The group went to Luke Air Force Base, and soon after took a tour of a TV station. Shortly after visiting Barry Goldwater's radio station, an end of the year party was held.

Raquetball is large club

The Racquetball Club originated 7 years ago.

They met every Monday to play racquetball and handball. Occasionally tournaments were held among students and winners were awarded trophies. At times free cokes would be brought to the meetings and members would receive one. At the end of the year a Fun Day was held, in which a drawing took place. The prizes were purchased with any leftover dues. They consisted of racquets, handballs, sweatbands, and T-Shirts.

Native American volunteers time

The Native American Club was organized four years ago and was open to all students interested in membership. They took many field trips, including rollerskating, campouts, and a day at Phoenix Indian High for Cultural Day, which consisted of traditional dancing and crafts. The members volunteered their time to the Indian Center during Christmas to get donations for needy families, and helped out at the Indian hospital during all holidays. In April a family picnic was held, and the club met with local high schools and shared ideas. They played softball and basketball, and overall, had a very busy year.

Soccer Club holds faculty game.

Although the Soccer Club has been recognized as an active organization for one year, it is one of the largest clubs on campus. They play soccer once a week. The members started out the year playing on the sump field, but due to extra curricular teams needing a place to practice, were moved to the football field. A Faculty-Soccer Club game was held in December to raise money for the Saint Mary's Food Bank. Admission was two cans of food or fifty cents. The club folded for the year in January due to the fact that they had no place to play. The forty members are in hopes of making it a school sport and be in competition with other schools in the near future.

Key Club is a nation-wide organization associated with Kiwanis. During the year the members volunteered time at the Arizona Preschool for the retarded. They helped the First Church of Christ build a playground, and sponsored two Walk-a-thons: one for Easter Seals, and the other for the Arizona Preschool. And all proceeds were donated to the Center. The Key Club sponsored the Sun's Night in Janurary, and supported a Dance-a-thon soon after. A work day was held at a church in Prescott. In March a district convention was held.

International goes to Nogales.

The International Club was organized six years ago, and its purpose is to bring all of the foreign language students into one environment to experience different cultures. They went to various ethnic restaurants. The group attended cultural programs at the Civic Center and at Grady Gammage. A Vietnamese girl held a cooking demonstration at one meeting, and President Charlene Soto showed slides from her summer trip to Russia. They had a Christmas party, and in February a masquerade-Mardi Gras party was held. The Club held a spring trip to Nagales. Officers for the year were Lachelle Weiser, Secretary; Steve Wolfson, Treasurer; Charlene Soto, President; And Tan Dang, Vice President.

Spartaticians has Award Banquet.

Spartaticians originated five years ago. Their purpose was to take statistics at the Frosh, JV, and Varsity football and basketball games. The information was handed over to the coaches and was used to see the strengths and weaknesses of the players. The members made the decorations on the lockers of the players during the football and basketball seasons. In October a picnic was held, and soon after a carwash took place. Another was held in the spring. The money went towards an awards banquet at the end of the year.

The Spirit Club cheers team on.

The Spirit Club originated three years ago and made it their business to bring spirit to the football games by making posters and cheering the team on. They supported the Sophomore Class by buying megaphones. The club held a car wash and earned over $100. The members agreed to donate $45 to La Granja Feliz, an orphanage in Sonora, Mexico, and contributed $45 to the Easter Seals Walk-A-Thon. The remainder of the money was spent on a pizza party. The club dispersed for the year, but will re-organize next year for the new football season.

Ski Club skis at Purgatory.

The Ski Club is one of the largest clubs on campus. Originating five years ago, it still attracts many of Camelback's students.

This year the Ski Club took three ski trips. They went to Purgatory in the months of January, February, and December. The average ski trip lasted two and a half days. Meetings were held approximately two weeks before each ski trip. A limited amount of people were allowed to go on each weekend trip, so planning was based on a first-come-first-serve basis.

150 students join Masque & G.

The purpose of the Masque and Gavel Club was to promote all speech and drama events. The masque stands for the dramatic aspect of the club and the gavel stands for the forensic team. Nearly 150 students made up the club along with six student officers and three sponsers. To become a member of the club, the students had to gain points by participating in the plays, either on stage or back stage, entering or observing forensic tournaments, attending meetings and events, and selling tickets for various productions that the club sponsers. At the end of the year Masque and Gavel presents a banquet to induct new members, give out all honors, and present letters and scholarships.

VICA works on group activities

VICA, (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America), was a mixture of a club and class. Together they attended the annual Vica convention held in Tucson. During the Christmas holiday the members sold candles and mistletoe. They planned to rebuild the kiosk. On occasion the members met with Mr. Pike to have breakfast together. Guest speakers frequented the meetings. The Vica officers for the year were Chuck Buchannon, President; David Heywood, Vice President; John White, Treasurer; Don Bingham, Secretary; and John Boone, Parlimentarien.

Deca travels to buying markets.

Deca was organized in 1967. They operated the Fall concession stand at the football games. The club took second place in the Phoenix J.C. haunted house this year. A cheese and sausage sale was held to raise money for a trip to Los Angeles to see the buying markets. They went to the Leadership Development Institute at the Del Webb Townhouse in November, which people from all over the state attended. There was a State Leadership Conference held in April, and an employer-employee banquet in May, honoring the employers of the members.

H.E.R.O. raises cash for Unicef

H.E.R.O. (Home Economics Related Occupations) originated 10 years ago. The students held various jobs in places such as nurseries, restaurants, hospitals, and furniture stores. They trick-or-treated for UNICEF, which brought in $60.00. A skate-a-thon was held last November where the students raised money for their year end banquet. A group of the members took the Fire Department Thanksgiving Dinner. Two conferences were held, one local and the other national. In May the students organized an Employer-Employee Banquet, honoring their employers.

Members active in Christian Club

The Christian Club was organized two years ago. One of their goals for the year was to provide a large amount of activities for its members. This included a number of "get togethers" after the games, pot lucks, a masquerade party, hay rides, and a Christmas party. The club also had a sunrise service at Squaw Peak Park which proved to be an experience. Formerly known as the Bible Club, the Christian Club has increases its members to a point that recognizes them as one of the larger clubs on campus.

Masque and Gavel presents STAGE DOOR

Under the direction of Ann Steele and student director Julie Goot, the play Stage Door was presented in the Camelback auditorium on December 5,6, and 7th. Stage Door was written by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman. Set in the era of the 1940's, this play follows the trials of a group of young 'hopefuls' in their quest to establish names for themselves in the exciting and glamerous world of the New York stage. Stage Door brought out the conflict of many actors and actresses of the present day: should the respectability of the stage be sacrificed for the 'artificial fame and fortune' of Hollywood? Members of the cast and crew put in a long eight weeks of work but were extremely satisfied with the results! — — Ann Steele

Mrs. Lynda Goldsen, the new forensic coach, explains an oratory selection to new members.

Forensic's Goldsen likes competitions.

Speech is an individual sport, you're in competition with yourself and you can gain a great deal of poise and confidence, as well as an understanding of literature." This was the reply given when Mrs Lynda Goldsen was questioned about forensics.

Mrs. Goldsen was the new Forensic Team coach this year and commented that she enjoyed working with the speech students in competition. Mrs. Goldsen previously coached speech in California before coming to Arizona and serving as assistant coach at Carl Hayden High School. When asked what was most satisfying about coaching she replied, "seeing the students accomplish what they set out to do"

Forensic Speakers Place in finals

The Forensic team had 35 members. They had to compete against each other in order to participate in the various tournaments. Every tournament had three preliminary rounds. If the participants received a first or second place score in each of those rounds they went to semi-finals. In each catagory of speaking there are two semi-final rounds. Three people from each round make it to the final round. At almost every tournament that Camelback entered, they placed at least half of their team in the final round competition. The last part of the speech tournament was the awards assembly. The speakers either receive a trophy or certificate, depending on the type of tournament.

Student's dance background leads to Orchesis.

Orchesis is something you should be proud to be in, it is complete self expression." This was the reply given when Julie Hendrix, student member, was asked about her involvement in Orchesis.

Julie's interests lie in dance and she posesses a family background in the art of dancing. She commented that trying out for Orchesis wasn't as difficult as she thought it would be. The Orchesis class had only four returning members and as a result had a very young group.

Julie enjoyed watching other people dance. Eventually she hopes to receive a scholarship in dance. Julie commented, "If you are at all interested in dancing, you have the opportunity to try out."

Band earns Superior Rate for 6th time

For the sixth straight year, the Camelback High School Spartan Marching Band won the highest rating possible, superior, in the Arizona State University marching contest. Thirty-two schools participated in this competition.

They also did a new car presentation for all Honda dealers in the United States. This was performed at Rawhide for thousands of Honda representatives. This event brought them $4,000, and due to total cooporation on the band's part, it only took them one day to learn the Honda song.

At Symphony Hall, the Marching Band played a concert for the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. The Marching Band has 100 participants under the direction of Mr. William Silvester.

Varsity Football Coaches: G. Clyne, E. Hawkins, & W. Saunders

Despite a statistically disappointing season the Varsity Football Team had much to be commended for. According to Bill Saunders the team's effort was good. Proof of this lies in the fact that three players, Paul Beauvais, top defensive end, Aaron Sheets, offensive guard and Paul Vaughn offensive guard were picked for the All Divisional Honorable Mention Team. Picked for the All Division First Team were: Tracy Cartledge, defensive halfback and Tom Doyle, offensive guard. Outstanding players picked by the team were: Tracy Cartledge, most valuable player; Mike Rodes, most improved player; Tracy Cartledge and Tom Doyle, Honorary Captains.

The highlight of the Varsity Softball season came in the last week when the girls played six games in eight days. This was due to the fact that rain caused many make-up games. In order to win a birth in Divisionals the team had to beat west twice during this period, once during regular league play, and once in a play-off game. According to Coach Morrison, both games had moments of superior performances by certain players. In the first game one of these players was Angela Kwan who threw out nine girls from third base and caught two line drives. She also got three hits for three attempts and scored two runs. Stephanie Encinas entered the game as a relief pitcher in the second inning. She managed to shut our West with the bases loaded. She pitched the remainder of the game and gave up only three hits.

Throughout the season other outstanding players included Tami Tang and Melanie Manor.

J.V. team cites outstanding girls.

The Junior Varsity Softball Team had many outstanding players according to Coach Nadine Sass. This was Ms. Sass's first year coaching the team and she commented that next year's team should be very strong. This is due to the fact that there were many freshmen on the team.

The game against Alhambra was cited as one of the most difficult. The team lost by a score of three to two. Outstanding players on the team included Pauline Klink, pitcher, Nancy Schultz, Lisa Edwards and Patti Kaufmann all leading batters, and defensive players Liz Moir, Tracy Satran, and Judy Strong. Another outstanding player was Eileen Ketterer who led the team defensively all season, and was moved up to the varsity team for the divisional playoffs.

Wrestlers compete in Divisionals.

The 1979-80 Wrestling Team had their ups and downs this season. The team went to Divisionals and Todd Schmelling (148 lbs.), and Dave Winters, (158 lbs.), both placed fourth, and Joe DelDuco, (181 lbs.), placed third. Due to the fact that Winters was ill and Schmelling was hurt in the last match at Divisionals, the team faired poorly at the State Tournament.

THE YEAR OF THE SPARTAN

Lisonbee retires after fall semester

Dr. Lorenzo Lisonbee retired January 31st, 1980, after 25 1 /2 years of service to Camelback High School. Starting as a science and math teacher, he became the Associate Principal in 1966 and held this position until retirement. The staff and faculty honored Dr. Lisonbee with a retirement party on his last day of school.

New Principal David Goodson has been in the Phoenix Union District for 25 years. He started as a science teacher. Prior to coming to Camelback, he was principal at South Mountain and Maryvale High Schools. He commented that he enjoyed working with young people. His favorite pastimes include riding his bicycle, hiking, jogging, and collecting paintings.

Ponder Comments About Security

"Vandalism has decreased due to the fact that students care more about their campus than in previous years. We try to get students to have pride in their own school and it seems to be working." This was the reply given when Chief of Security Ponders was asked about security problems.

Because Camelback is located in a residential area it is required that there be security. There were nine people working security this last past year. An additional security person was added in order to provide full coverage of the campus.

Taking a pause from a coffee break, Mr. Allegretti writes something down.

One of our more experienced counselors for the year was Mr. Allegretti. Being a counselor for thirteen years, he has seen the changes that have taken place over the years, in the curriculum. An exceptional students program has been added, serving needs for gifted and handicapped students. Improvements have been made on the campus, including the addition of the auditorium, and expanded opportunities in girl's sports.

Although he feels students haven't changed much throughout the years, Mr. Allegretti finds his work exciting and a challenge at times. Aside from his job he enjoys snow skiing, and as a native born Californian, also enjoys body surfing.

Teaching runs in the family.

Dave Wertz has taught a variety of business courses, one of which is Business Machines; including learning to operate various calculaters for speed and accuracy. First semester is more personal use, and second is made for those looking for employment in an office.

Wertz has taught at CBHS for 19 years, and does not plan to leave until retirement. He feels students aren't as consciencious as they used to be about learning. They don't seem to realize how valuable their education is going to be to them in the future.

Teaching seems to run in the family; his wife and son teach, and his daughter did until she married. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, bridge, and reading.

Dodge completes twentieth year

Ann Dodge completed her twentieth and last year at CBHS. Over the years she has taught Imaginary lit., various English courses, geometry, algebra, and business arithmetic. Dodge sponsored the Sophomore class, and was chairman of the Courtesy Committee, of which she is a current member.

Mrs. Dodge noted a drastic change in students, namely that they are less inhibited than they used to be. She felt this generation had many rights, but didn't have the responsibility to handle those rights, although that didn't apply to all. Many good students are interested in getting ahead in life, she felt. "I enjoy the kids progression, and when there's a warm relationship I really enjoy it," Dodge commented.

Dodge plans to occupy her retirement with visiting relatives, and has an abundance of hobbies she plans to pursue.

Teaching involves basic reading

Ken Johnson has taught reading at Camelback for eight years. Teaching reading involves Basic Reading and Study Skills. In the past he taught only Freshman, but is broadening out into older age groups next year.

Before teaching, Johnson worked in the electronics industry for eight years. He is eventually planning to leave teaching. He found the past year to be more difficult than most. "I enjoy teaching, but it's reached a point where it's time for a change," Johnson commented. He may go back to industry, but is not sure at this point.

Mr. Johnson got his undergraduate and graduate degree at ASU. He majored in Philosophy and English and received his masters in reading.

Foreign language teacher travels

I enjoy the intellectual stimulation of teaching, although it's a challenge to do it well," said Foreign Language teacher Jim Hughes. This was his first year teaching German at CBHS, but has taught a total of 19 years in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Hughes has visited Europe on five different occasions. He went with the University of Colorado for a study program, and the next summer he accompamied a study group from Stanford. Hughes had the opportunity to live with a German family and visited friends in Berlin and the Rheinland. He also conducted student tours for various groups to Salzburg, Austria and the Roman city of Trier.

Besides speaking German, Hughes can also speak Latin, Italian, and a little French. He received his masters at the Univ. of Penn. in German language and lit. He came to Arizona a year ago with his wife and two year old son. He felt it would be exciting to get a new start in a different place.

Health and Home Ec are "related."

"Home Ec and Health are closely related. They work in the same direction . . . food, nutrition, and child care," commented Child Development and Health teacher Margaret Christian. Mrs. Christian has one daughter, age ten. She tries to "practice what she preaches" when it comes to teaching Child Development. I find not everything I learned is as applicable as I thought before having a child of my own. Now when I teach I have the experience to know what I'm saying is basically correct." Mrs. Christian previously taught at Central for 20 years. Before that she spent a total of four years teaching in Texas and Kansas. This was her second year at Camelback.

Calculas class is interesting

Calculas is a class in which a student not only has to be mathematically inclined, but should have a definite interest or purpose for taking it, according to Dr. Scott Bull, mathematics dept. head.

The AP class worked with calculas, and analytic geometry. It involved hours of high concentration and homework.

Bull has been teaching at CBHS for 15 years, and has found that the past couple of years has produced many exceptional students. His interests are in gardening and fruit tree farming in Payson. He also attents math meetings and conventions on occasion.

Many Changes in PE classes

Finishing his sixteenth year at CBHS, Coach O'Jay Bourgeois has seen many changes in the school, one of which is co-ed PE. Bourgeois felt it wasn't working out as it should. Because of physical differences, he found it impossible to meet the needs of each sex mixed together. He noticed the girls didn't try as hard in sports requiring a significant amount of bodily size, and the boys seemed more dominating. The boys seemed to feel guilty about competing on a highly competative level with the girls, leading Bourgeois to believe neither sex is competing at their full potential.

At one time, nationally, interscholastic sports were putting more emphasis on the males, leaving girls with lower finances and support. Laws were passed requiring co-ed PE as well with the even distribution of funds. "They, (the girls), should have as much as the boys, but shouldn't be made to compete on the same level," he commented. However, Bourgeois noted that the students got a chance to see what the opposite sex was like in aspects such as friendliness, sociabliity, the ability to work together, and most important, fairness.

Whitfield plans to coach track

Joel Whitfield was surplused over from Phx. Union to CBHS two years ago. His feelings were mixed about his transfer. He found the Phx. Union staff had different philosophies and many seemed to clash. Here he can teach what he feels like teaching. His classes include Health and Az. Government.

After his day here, Whitfield heads to Phx. College to coach the track program. He enjoys the informal atmosphere in a PE class, which is his major. He plans to stay at CBHS until switched to a Junior College. After teaching public school for 10 years he would like to teach older ages. Wiitfield's main goal is to coach track at a major university.

Mrs. Steele Heads Drama Production.

More students were able to be involved in plays, talent contest, skits and mimes because of the auditorium's layout. Mrs. Ann Steele presented plays for class as well as the drama productions some of which appeared in the Arizona State Competition during the spring.

Mrs. Steele felt her students were talented and liked to get involved. She commented that her favorite type of play was a heavy drama.

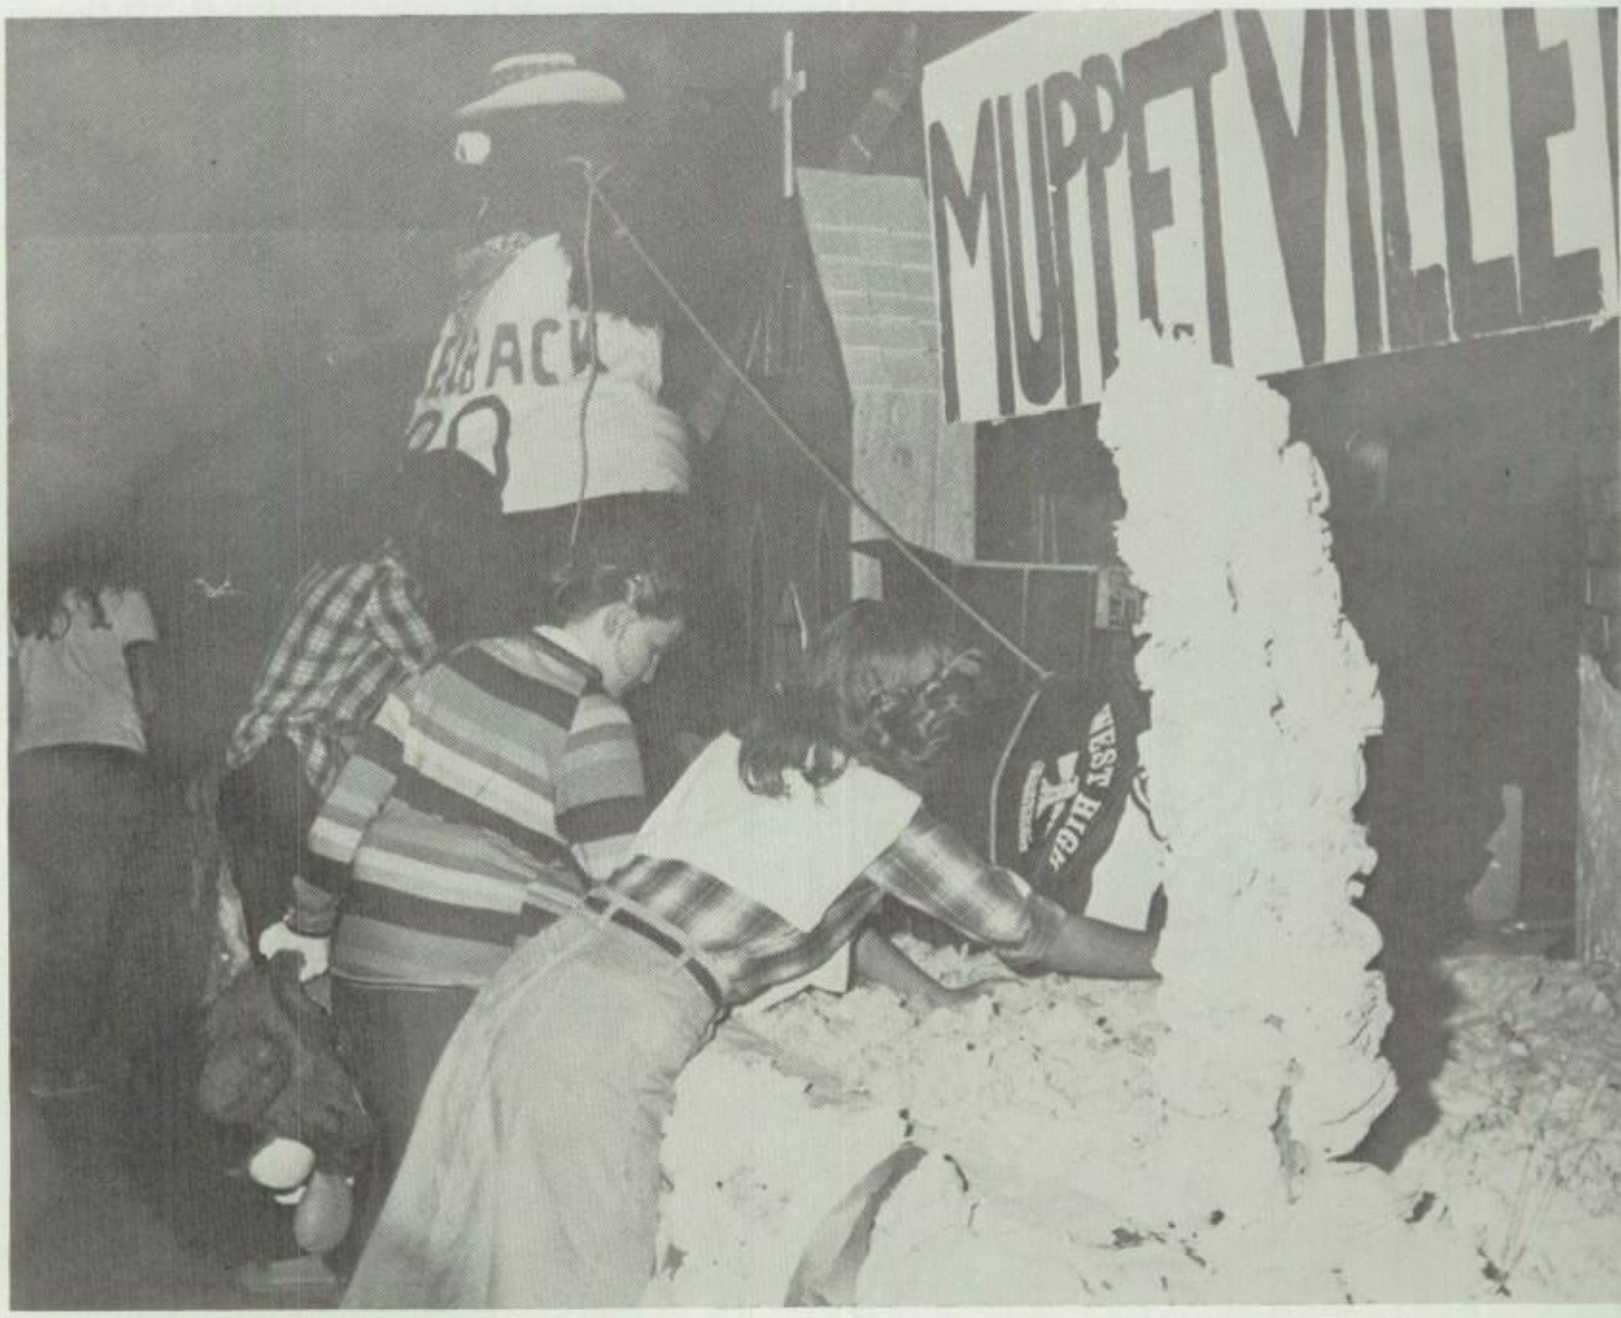
THE YEAR OF THE SPARTAN

CLASSES DIVISION 181

The varsity football team looks on as the Flag and Pom lines perform during a fall assembly.



Three seniors add finishing touches to the senior float, Muppetville. The float was part of Homecoming.

Senior Class Officers . . . Bottom: Maureen Nebrich, president; Nancy Parks, secretary; Sarah Hilling, treasurer.

Senior class wins float competition

The senior class started the year out right by winning the homecoming float competition. The float depicted a Muppetville and many seniors worked very hard to make it a success. One of those seniors was Jim Baca who designed the majority of the float.

The year progressed with other activities including a country swing dance put on after a basketball game and senior class banquet. Although the "Class of 80" looked forward to the future they were often reminded of their experiences at Camelback.

The junior homecoming float drives by as hundreds of Spartan fans show their enthusiasm.

Juniors hold outdoor prom!

Junior Class Officers . . . Jessica Richter, Treasurer; Suzie Fishman, Secretary; Anna Trevino, Vice-President; Tim Kennell, President . . .

The Junior class kicked off the year with their first fundraising project. The project was selling "Camelback Spartan" buttons for $1.00 and the efforts gained an entire profit of $200.00. Their second fundraising event was the selling of the Spartan T-shirts.

The main purpose of the Junior class fundraising was to sponser the Junior/Senior spring prom. It was held at the new Radisson Resort in Scottsdale and this was the first outdoor prom to be held by Camelback.

"Muppets Roast the T-Birds" was the name of the class homecoming float which won second place. The Junior Class Council consisted of thirty active members who worked together on the float for 16 weeks. Another important event of the Junior class was the signing of a class ring company.

The Junior class as a whole was very active in school activities and this was evident in football, forensics, publications, academics and drama.

The Sophomore Class Float promotes the Homecoming theme, "How the Muppets Won the West" . . .

First Row: Kimi Abbott, Liza Walbaum . . . Second row: Tracy McCoy, Jill Kauffman . . .

Council worked on Basketbrawl.

Being Sophomore Class President has been an exciting experience for me," said Kimi Abbott, when asked about her feelings on her performance this year. Kimi worked with the council on such projects as Homecoming '79, bake sales and selling Spartans megaphones. The Sophomore Class also sponsored a dance and worked with the Freshman Class on the Basketbrawl. Kimi said she was anxious to work with the student body in the near future.

Pens sold by Frosh Class.

"We had a big turnout for the year, but we would have liked to get even more students involved," replied Freshman Class President Kelly Dunham when questioned about class participation. The Freshman Class spent three weeks working on their banner for Homecoming. Their main fundraising event was selling spartan pens, and they participated with the Sophomore Class in sponsoring the Basketbrawl. Several fundraising events were held and the proceeds went to a beneficial organization.

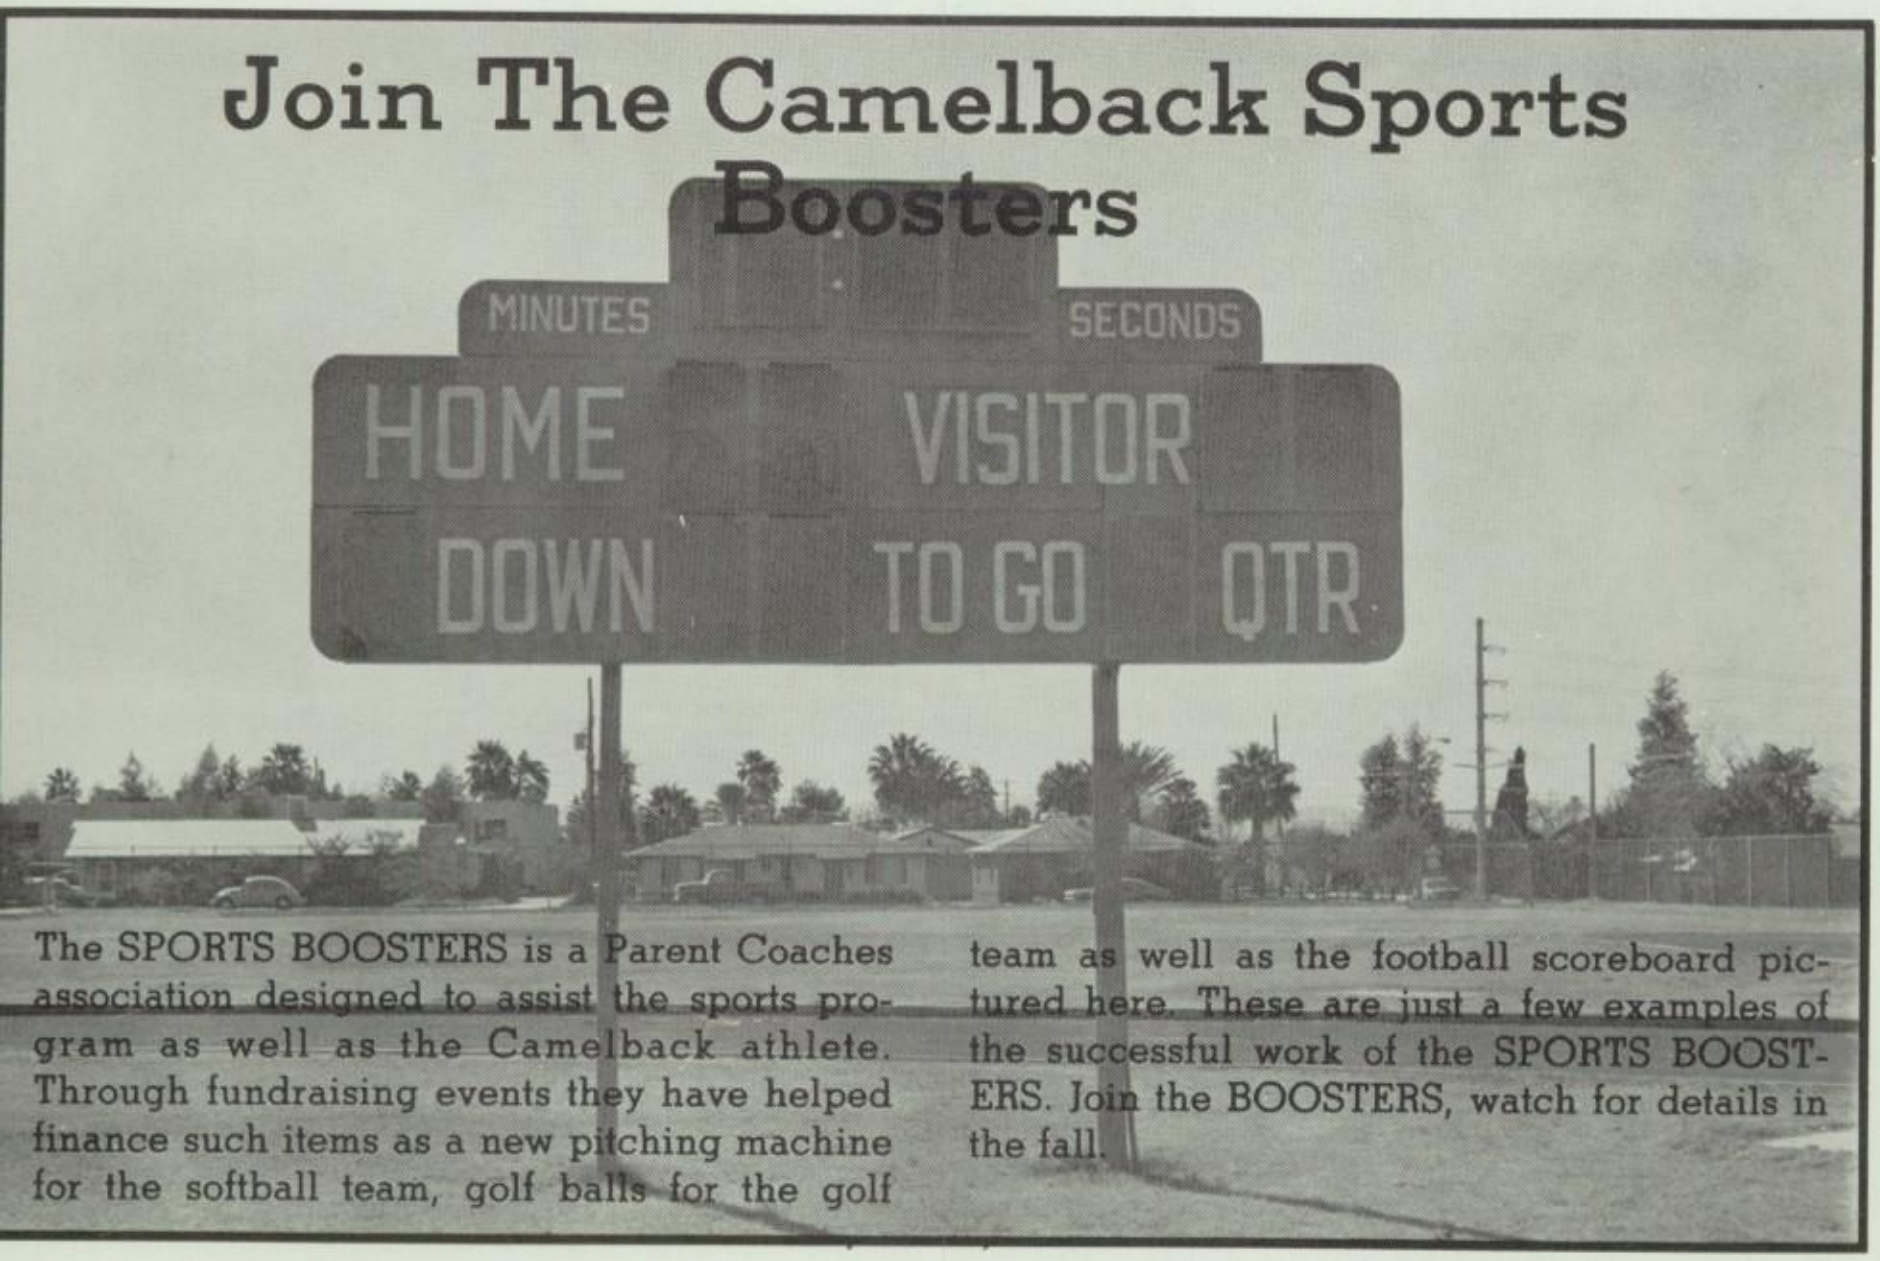
Join The Camelback Sports Boosters



The SPORTS BOOSTERS is a Parent Coaches association designed to assist the sports program as well as the Camelback athlete. Through fundraising events they have helped finance such items as a new pitching machine for the softball team, golf balls for the golf team as well as the football scoreboard pictured here. These are just a few examples of the successful work of the SPORTS BOOSTERS. Join the BOOSTERS, watch for details in the fall.

Brad,
I must say, this year I got to know you even better than I ca and I'm sure glad I did. What would you have done witha me around?! (He He) No, really, you know Brad next year all the oldies will be gone and only us two will be left. We're gonna have to make it the best year. Remember, don't worry yourse about too many things (if you know what I mean) 'cause the not as bad or wrong as some others may think. You know you a real special guy, and a real special one to me at that. Anytime you need to talk about something, remember I'm always willing to listen. By the way, congratulations on your election, even though the only way you got it was by your, or shall I say my stickers. Just kidding. Good luck and I think a lot of you, so take care of yourself. Love ya, Tracy ☺

Brad,
I'm sorry it didn't work out but I typed to see you & couldn't anymore!
How are things between you and the wife? are you really pregnant? Hope I see you the summer! You are a cutie and I'll miss you this summer (if I don't see you before then I'll see you next year and I'll miss you!
Brad - sweetie, honey-pie, maggie what can I say to a man who has everything?
I'm just kidding! Sometime you'll have to tell me about the girl in the red pants! The best of luck under the circumstances! I really have enjoyed knowing you!
Love,
Sherri.

Brad

I'm not real happy about signing your yearbook [illegible] you know who. But I guess we [illegible] just can't muster any enthusiasm [illegible]

Sue

Brad,
Believe it or not I think about you a lot. I've changed a lot since freshman year. I'm glad you do have that wonderful gift of writing. It's a very special gift that few people have. Some day I'll be a successful author and you can say you knew me when. I hope your senior year is the best yet. Keep your chin up and don't let those teachers get you down. Have a good summer and I'll see you next year.
Love,
Jill

Brad,
It was a really cool year. I hope you do have a great summer. Don't forget to write me and keep in touch. Have a good summer and a great senior year.
Sincerely,
Jenny Budnik

BRAD,
I don't know how to start! You are just one of a kind. Your so special to me. Our friendship has grown and grown. I'm really glad because you are just so neat. I'm going to miss being around you next year. I hope that you have a terrific time next year. Its your senior year HUN so make the most out of it. I hope that we can keep in touch next year. Brad you are constantly growing and growing (if you know what I mean) ~~HAHA~~ So you better tell everyone to make way. Just Remember about all

Brad,

Hi! Guess who? ~~It's~~ me! I really don't know what to say. You're one of a kind. I can honestly say you are one of my closest friends, even if we haven't talked much lately, you're too busy w/ Sue! Sore subject? I'll drop it!

You're like a brother to me so, Bro, I'll see ya next year. Take Care and "Thanks" for getting me to Anytown! (Sorry You did the best you can, I know!) Well, Have a great summer and Don't change a bit!

See Ya Next year
Mr. Exec. Sec.

Love ya Lots
Patti Gerke

P.S. Make me some posters!

Brad
Well, I don't know how to start! You have a great personality, stay that way! You're different from most guys you are real easy to talk with! Thanks for listening! Good luck for Sue, Don't blow it! Have a great summer and I'll see you next year!
Have

Brad,
At last the year is over. I hope your future is a great one. I've heard so much from Susan about you but I never got to know you personally, yet I feel like I do. Good luck to you and Susan in the future. Keep on striving for what you want!

Love in Christ,
Lisa Koehler

Brad,
Well, I just hope that you have a great Senior year.
God Bless You and
Take Care of Yourself.
I Love Ya

Brad,
well, hi, it's been really fun sitting next to you in Am. History. Thanks for all the answers. Well maybe I'll see you at a party or something over the Summer.
Love,
Cathy Abraham
